INFORMATION LETTER
International Scientific Conference
BANZAROV READINGS,
DEDICATED TO THE 200th ANNIVERSARY OF THE BIRTH OF THE
SCIENTIST-ORIENTALIST DORZHI BANZAROV AND
THE 90th ANNIVERSARY OF BSPI-BSU

March 30 - 31, 2022 Banzarov Buryat State University is holding an international scientific conference dedicated to significant anniversaries in the history of the Republic of Buryatia and Buryat State Pedagogical Institute – Banzarov Buryat State University (BSPI-BSU) «Banzarov Readings».

Dorzhi Banzarov (1822-1855) – an orientalist, specialist of Mongolian Studies, the first who got a European education at Kazan University. His development was influenced by prominent Russian scientists of the first half of the XIXth century, among them was the orientalist, founder of scientific Mongolian studies, Professor of Kazan University Osip Kovalevsky (1801-1878). In 1842 Dorzhi Banzarov graduated from the Kazan gymnasium with honour and entered the University of Kazan.

From 1842 to 1846 he studied Oriental languages at the university: Mongolian, Kalmyk, Manchurian, Sanskrit, Turkish. D. Banzarov read fluently in German, English, French and Latin. Dorzhi Banzarov successfully graduated from Kazan University in 1846, presenting the work "Black Faith" or shamanism among the Mongols" for defense. D. Banzarov's dissertation, as one of the best, by the decision of the University Council, was published the same year. In 1848 he worked with the funds of the Public Library and the

Asian Museum of the Academy of Sciences in St. Petersburg; he was elected a corresponding member of the Imperial Russian Archaeological Society.

Dorzhi Banzarov is a vivid example of a man who passed all the stages in the structure of Oriental education in Russia of the first half of the XIXth century, from the "Russian-Mongolian Military School" in Troitskosavsk, where he received his primary education. Dorzhi Banzarov belongs to the galaxy of talented scientists who stood at the origins of the scientific school formation of Mongolian studies in Russia.

The thematic priorities:

- Dorzhi Banzarov, his scientific heritage.
- Innermost Asia: sociocultural processes in the age of globalization.
- Russian (Soviet)-Mongolian relations: history and contemporaneity.
- Language and intercultural communication.
- Literary and folklore studies.
- Law and State: traditions, modernity, innovations.
- History of education in Russia.
- The phenomenon of childhood in the modern Mongolian world: psychological and pedagogical aspects.
- Modern lessons: design, transformation, result.

Historians, sociologists, political scientists, philologists, linguists, philosophers, teachers, archivists, jurists, postgraduates, archivists, cultural and educational workers are invited to participate in the conference.
